Formation and the Person Oct 24 2020 This book gathers the foundational concepts which characterise the approach to the person, as human and as Christian, which has been developed at the Institute of Psychology of the Pontifi Gregorian University during its more than 35 years of activity. The book directs these concepts towards further for investigation and puts them in dialogue with sister schools of depth psychology and with other areas of sch (in particular philosophy and theology) which are equally interested in exploring the human mystery. Hence the variety of authors - psychologists, philosophers and theologians - brought together by a common interest in understanding and forming the human person in better ways. The reflections contained in this book gain concre expression in an educative-therapeutic practice, and they review the nodal points which are part of every journe growth and of psychotherapy: personal identity, interaction with the external world and the attainment of perso truth, inner imagination, desires and affections, conflicts. Instruments are offered to enable the formator and th psychotherapist to make the best possible use of the great energies which are made available by their applicatio to identify the real problem, where to concentrate one's attention, what to listen to, how to handle the relation what element to act in order to promote improvement/cure, what kind of change to propose. While accompanim and psychotherapy are different procedures, they nevertheless have many similarities and points of contact. The dynamic relations and the factors involved in growth which this book describes are valid for both modalities of intervention and will be of interest to anyone who wishes to help others in a more enlightened educative dialog

History of Linguistics, Volume IV Nov 03 2021 The History of Linguistics, to be published in five volumes, aims to provide the reader with an authoritative and comprehensive account of the attitudes to language prevailing in different civilizations and in different periods by examining the very varied development of linguistic thought in t specific social, cultural and religious contexts involved. Issues discussed include the place of language in educati variation and prestige, and approaches to lexical and grammatical description. The authors of the individual chap are specialists who have analysed the primary sources and produced original syntheses by exploring the linguisti interests and assumptions of particular cultures in their own terms, without seeking to reinterpret them as contributions towards the development of contemporary western conceptions of linguistic science. In Volume IV Nineteenth Century Linguistics, Anna Morpurgo Davies shows how linguistics came into its own as an independe discipline separated from philosophical and literary studies and enjoyed a unique intellectual and institutional suc tied to the research ethos of the new universities, until it became a model for other humanistic subjects which 'scientific status'. The linguistics of the nineteenth century abandons earlier theoretical discussions in favour of empirical and historical approach using new methods to compare languages and to investigate their history. The achievement of this period is the demonstration that languages such as Sanskrit, Latin and English are related a derive from a parent language which is not attested but can be reconstructed. This book discusses in detail the theories developed and the individual findings obtained. In contrast with earlier historiographical trends it denies the new approach originated entirely from German Romanticism, and highlights a form of continuity with the eighteenth century, while stressing that a deliberate break took place round the 1830s. By the end of the century the results of comparative and historical linguistics had been generally accepted, but it soon became clear that a historical approach could not by itself solve all questions that it raised. At this point the new interest in description and the method which characterizes the twentieth century began to gain prominence.

The present volume provides in addition an index of subjects, as well as an index of names, which supplies bibliographical references to authors discussed.

Victors' Justice Aug 02 2021 Victors' Justice is a potent and articulate polemic against the manipulation of international penal law by the West, combining historical detail, juridical precision and philosophical analysis. Zolo's key thesis is that contemporary international law functions as a two-track system: a made-to-measure law for hegemonies and their allies, on the one hand, and a punitive regime for the losers and the disadvantaged, on the other. Though it constantly advertised its impartiality and universalism, international law served to bolster and legitimize ever since the Tokyo and Nuremberg trials, a fundamentally unilateral and unequal international order.

La filosofia di Rorty May 31 2021 Richard Rorty è uno dei più influenti e controversi filosofi culturali della fine del XX secolo. Intellettuale dal respiro ampio ed erudito, con la sua opera ha contribuito a riportare all'attenzione del dibattito internazionale alcune idee e intuizioni del pragmatismo americano. Il crescente interesse per l'opera di Rorty ha reso più che mai attuale il compito di una rilettura e di una rivalutazione del suo pensiero. La sua saggiatura continua a ispirare nuove incursioni in campi di grande importanza per la filosofia, la teoria politica, la sociologia, i legal studies, i feminist studies, l'educazione e la letteratura comparata, dimostrando la rilevanza del suo pensiero rispetto alle questioni più pressanti del nostro tempo. I saggi contenuti in questo libro analizzano criticamente la filosofia di Rorty focalizzando l'attenzione sulle sue concezioni etiche, epistemologiche e politiche. Essi rivalutano alcuni aspetti del suo pensiero che non sono stati sufficientemente tematizzati. Diritti fondamentali Nov 05 2021 A fronte di rapide trasformazioni geo-politiche globali, il tema dei diritti fondamentali - quale sia la loro struttura, quali debbano considerarsi tali, in qual modo li si possa garantire, quale il rapporto con la cittadinanza e la democrazia - acquista sempre maggiore rilevanza nella discussione pubblica. Luigi Ferrajoli propone su questi problemi un'originale e innovativa riflessione, suscitando un dibattito in cui si coniugano rigore scientifico e passione civile.

Historical journey in a linguistic archipelago Feb 14 2020 This volume offers a selection of papers presented during the 14th International Conference on the History of the Language Sciences (ICHoLS XIV, Paris, 2017). Part I brings together studies dealing with descriptive concepts. First examined is the notion of "accidens" in Latin grammar and its Greek counterparts. Other papers address questions with a strong echo in today's linguistics: localism and its revival in recent semantics and syntax, the origin of the term "polysemy" and its adoption through Bréal, and the difficulties attending the description of prefabs, idioms and other "fixed expressions". This first part also includes studies dealing with representations of linguistic phenomena, whether these concern the treatment of local varieties (so-called patois) in French research, or the import and epistemological function of spatial representations in descriptions of linguistic time. Or again, now taking the word "representation" literally, the visual display of grammatical relations, in the form of the first syntactic diagrams. Part II presents case studies which involve wider concerns, of a social nature: the "from below" approach to the history of Chinese Pidgin English underlines the roles of speakers and the diversity of speech situations, while the scrutiny of Lhomond's Latin and French textbooks demonstrates the interplay of pedagogical practice, cross-linguistic comparison and descriptive innovation. An overview of early descriptions of Central Australian languages reveals a whole spectrum of humanist to positivist and antihumanist stances during the colonial age. An overarching framework is also at play in the anthropological perspective championed by Meillet, whose socially and culturally oriented semantics is shown to live on in Benveniste. The volume ends with a paper on Tr?n ??c Th?o, whose work is an original synthesis between phenomenology and Marxist semiology, wielded against the "idealistic" doctrine of Saussure.

Paesaggi fatti a mano May 19 2020 L'autrice ci mette davanti ad un cambiamento del comportamento nel rapporto dell'umanit  nei confronti delle problematiche della pianificazione. [...] Certo gli umani sono capaci di fare un paesaggio a mano, potrebbe addirittura essere una delle pi  belle maniere di agire sul territorio. (dalla presentazione di Gilles Cl ment) Fausta Occhipinti con "Paesaggi fatti a mano" ci propone un tema ambizioso, una sistematica revisione dei metodi e degli strumenti dello studio del paesaggio nell'universit  italiana, partendo dall'intuizione che sia necessario introdurre una sperimentazione applicata in costante confronto con i corsi teorici, e questo nel momento pi  recessivo della nostra storia recente, mentre il nostro Paese sta meticolosamente disinvestendo sul paesaggio, revocando anche quel poco che si era fatto, in particolare nelle scuole di architettura. (dalla presentazione di Franco Zagari) Come si diventa paesaggisti? Come si insegna il progetto di paesaggio? Questo ebook indaga il strategico della didattica di terreno nelle scuole di architettura del paesaggio in Europa. La ricerca mette in luce la relazione tra la formazione del paesaggista e il suo riconoscimento istituzionale in diversi contesti europei, con particolare riferimento a quello italiano e francese. Ne emerge che la scuola del paesaggio ideale dovrebbe intensificare l'interdisciplinariet  applicata a casi reali, sperimentando sul campo, e orientare il progetto verso una committenza reale, migliorando il rapporto tra scuola e istituzioni, mondo professionale e societ .

Managing Existence in Naples Dec 14 2019 Italo Pardo has produced a thoughtful and original account of the moral life of Naples, a city in which the ethics of work, family and neighbourhood exist in complex relationship with the teachings of the church and, crucial to key processes of democracy, with the power and limitations of law, bureaucracy and government. Dr Pardo identifies the importance of strong continuous interaction between material and non-material aspects in the entrepreneurial strategies of the ordinary Neapolitan and shows the ways in which different ethical systems are negotiated in everyday life. Success is measured not only by material gain, but also by satisfying spiritual obligations and meeting the claims of intimate loyalties. This is one of the very few ethnographic studies of a European city; it questions old assumptions and raises fresh issues in the field of urban studies, demonstrating the significance of empirical analysis to mainstream debates in social theory.

The Notion of Syllable Across History, Theories and Analyses 2020 Any notion linguistically expressed, even one such as the syllable, is always the result of several different viewpoints. In order to take this into account, this book draws inspiration from the scheme of quaternion, as conceived by Sir William Rowan Hamilton and later introduced in theoretical linguistics by Ferdinand de Saussure. The first term of the quaternion (The Dawn of the Syllable) is provided by historical observations. The second term (Beyond the Sound of Syllables) is composed of different descriptive analyses of the syllable carried out in some particular languages and dialects. The third term (The Boundaries of Syllables) presents the analytical-instrumental analysis of the syllable, while the fourth (De Syllaba Ventura) proposes some theoretical considerations.

Yesterday's Words Apr 29 2021 Yesterday's Words: Contemporary, Current and Future Lexicography reflects the main issues of scholarly discussion in the fields of historical lexicography and lexicology including the historiography of lexicography. The state-of-the-art volume offers a wide range of contributions in five chapters. After the editor's introduction to Yesterday's Words, the chapter Dictionaries and Dictionary-Makers of Former Ages concentrates historical lexicography, including both the main lexicographical works in English and German and dictionaries of minority languages such as Frisian, Welsh, Irish and Scots. The Vocabulary of the Past discusses historical lexicological and etymological issues such as the results of early language contact in the West-Germanic area and Jamaica in more recent times. Researchers involved in ongoing lexicographical projects, such as the first dictionary of Old Dutch, report on their practice and methodological approach in Current and Future Lexicography and Lexicology. Many dictionaries or dictionary research projects discussed in the volume have been or are being carried out in a digital environment. In the final chapter, Technology of Today for Yesterday's Words, special attention is paid to projects in which computer techniques and the development of new applications have been essential. This volume is an essential text for lexicographers, historiographers and historical linguists.

Reassessing the Role of the Syllable in Italian Phonology April 2020 This book evaluates the predictions of syllable-based analyses of Italian in three domains: native speaker intuition of consonant cluster syllabification, definite allomorphy, and segment duration, and tests the claimed convergence of multiple phenomena on the same syllable structure.

Papers in Italian Archaeology VII: The Archaeology of Death Apr 09 2022 This volume collects more than 60 papers by contributors from the British Isles, Italy and other parts of continental Europe, and North and South America, focussing on recent developments in Italian archaeology from the Neolithic to the modern period.

The Canadian Contribution to a Comparative Law of Secession Nov 12 2019 This edited collection gathers together Canadian and non-Canadian scholars to reflect on and celebrate the 20th anniversary of the Quebec Secession Reference, delivered by the Canadian Supreme Court in 1998. It opens with two Canadian scholars exchanging thoughts on the legacy of the reference from a domestic perspective as one of the most questioned decisions of the Canadian Supreme Court. To follow, non-Canadian scholars discuss the impact of this reference abroad, reflecting upon its influence in European and non-European contexts (Spain, Scotland, the EU after Brexit, Eastern European Countries, Ethiopia, and Asia). Two final chapters, one by a lawyer and one by a political scientist, explore the democratic theory behind that reference.

The Impact of Music Therapy on Children in a Multicultural Elementary School Oct 04 2021 The OECD stated in 2018 that language barriers are among the greatest obstacles to the successful inclusion of students with an immigrant background. Providing adequate instruction in the language of instruction at school, and offering learning experiences independent of the level of language skills is, therefore, an essential task of the 21st-century school systems. This book explores how music therapy can contribute to solving this challenge. It investigates the multicultural learning environment of an Italian elementary school that is characterised by students with multiple native languages and different levels of proficiency in the language of instruction. In some cases, students have difficulty following lessons and participating in social life. The children (5-8 years) receive music therapy in the experimental condition and regular school activity in the control condition according to a within-subject control group design, meaning that the children started in the control condition and the other started in the experimental condition; they switched at the half-time point. Data on the children's language skills and general behaviour are collected and analysed.

Sanctius' Theory of Language Jan 27 2021 This volume presents the main tenets of Sanctius' linguistic theory and explores the questions raised by Robin Lakoff in her 1969 review of the "Grammaire generale et raisonnee (Port-Royal)." Part I surveys earlier developments in the study of language, in particular the Graeco-Roman and Medieval traditions, the Renaissance period, and Judaeo-Arabic scholarship. Part II contains a synopsis in English of Sanctius' "Minerva," placing special emphasis on theoretical passages and illustrative data. Part III is devoted to Sanctius' linguistic doctrine: (1) his philosophical approach to language analysis, (2) his notion of logical structure and rules, (3) his classification of the parts of speech, and (4) his basic semantic postulates.

Between Democracy and Secession Aug 22 2020 This volume purports to explore the legal and political issues triggered by the new wave of secessionism. More specifically, those issues concern the interplay between notions of democracy democratic ends and means) and law (and the rule of law and constitutionalism). Against this background, the use of amorality in order to escape the terrain of the justification of secession by making a distinction between the democratic theory of secession and the theory of democratic secession. In the first section, the theoretical nexus between democracy-secession has been approached both from a legal and political theory perspective. The second section of the book examines the instruments that the theory of democratic secession invokes in order to justify secession. The third section presents both legal and political science contributions. The third section focuses on social movements and political actors. The fourth section focuses on two case studies due to the awareness of the importance of the different forms of secession in a democratic occidental context (which call into play the discussion of the democratic theories) and in a non-democratic context (where the nexus between secession and democracy is not really central). Faces of Geometry. From Agnesi to Mirzafatholli Sep 15 2022 The volume reports on interdisciplinary discussions and interactions between theoretical research and practical studies on geometric structures and their applications in architecture, the arts, design, education, engineering, and mathematics. These related fields of research can enrich each other and renew their mutual interest in these topics through networks of shared inspiration, and can ultimately enhance the quality of geometry and graphics education. Particular attention is dedicated to the contributions that women have made to the scientific community and especially mathematics. The book introduces engineers, architects and designers interested in computer applications, graphics and geometry to the latest advances in the field, with a particular focus on science, the arts and mathematics education.
